

Schools Health & Safety Audits and Consultancy Services

The appointment of key people to be responsible for the Health & Safety in schools can be a daunting challenge to those involved in the educational system.

Access to competent and experienced H&S consultants who can advise and assist in this important undertaking is not without risk. In particular carrying out audits and regular inspections to maintain the high standards expected by The Health & Safety publication (HSG65) 'Successful Health and Safety Management' or similar recognised systems such as OHSAS 18001.

The purpose of a consultant's independent audit is to provide an assurance that suitable management systems are in place and that adequate steps are being taken to respond to any shortfalls identified. In addition a robust audit and inspection regime offers an opportunity to improve and refine Policies and Procedures in line with current legislation.
